FOUR HONSHU CITIES TURNED TO ASH HEAPS

AERIAL SWEEP BAGS 116 SHIPS AND 278 AIRCRAFT

BY MURLIN SPENCER

Guam, Friday, Aug. 3 (AP)—United States and British carrier pilots sank or damaged 116 Japanese ships and destroyed or damaged 278 aircraft in their Monday sweeps over Honshu, Adm. Nimitz said today in his "final report" for that day.

Twenty-four of the ships, including two destroyers and two midget submarines, were sunk. Of the 92 damaged 33 were warships. These included an escort carrier, a light cruiser, six destroyers, nine destroyer escorts, a submarine and seven midget submarines, a submarine tender, a gunboat, five identified simply as combatant ships, and a naval auxiliary.

The raids, initially directed at the Tokyo area but widened to include Nagoya and the Maizuru naval base on western Honshu because of bad weather, also damaged the great Nagoya naval arsenal, naval docks and buildings at Maizuru, for main buildings of the Kanto Special Steel Co. and the Japanese International Aircraft Co., both at Hiratsuka, near Tokyo.

Nimitz' communique was issued while four Japanese cities and a big oil refinery center still smoldered from the greatest aerial raid in history, and radio Tokyo declared that pre-invasion blows at the heavily fortified island of Kyushu systematically were battering vital transportation links.

NAGASAKI WRECKED

Manila, Friday, Aug. 3 (AP)—More than 250 planes of the Far East Air Forces spread destruction across Kyushu's great harbor of Nagasaki Wednesday, sinking 10 enemy ships, damaging three others and a submarine, and leaving fires visible for 25 miles.

At least 12 other ships of varying size were sunk or damaged in widespread attacks on enemy-controlled waters from Korea southward to Borneo and the Celebes, General MacArthur's communique said today.

The heavy strike against Nagasaki, one of the three largest ship-building centers of Japan, was challenged by 20 Japanese planes, six of which were shot down without loss to the raiders.

The Okinawa-based fighters and bombers reported a total of 44 enemy planes had come out of hiding to meet the raids of Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Nagasaki strike crowded close on the heels of a raid by more than 500 Far East fighters and bombers Tuesday on this same southern island of Kyushu, which the enemy says is being hit by incessant pre-invasion blows directed at transport.

TOKYO UNEASY

San Francisco, Aug. 2 (AP)—Enemy broadcasts, conceding heavy blows by Superforts, broadcast today of an "iron defense" by 100,000,000 Japanese determined to scorn surrender and fight the war to a finish.

Some uneasiness was manifest, however, over repeated assaults by General MacArthur's air forces from Okinawa on the southern island of Kyushu, which the Japanese previously have declared was a "fortress."

Domei Agency said such attacks on transport targets were "systematic and thorough," were carried out by from 350 to 500 fighters and bombers daily and "will undoubtedly be intensified in the future."

Vandenberg Urges Conference For Industrial Peace

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach endorsed today a suggestion that he sponsor a general industrial peace conference, but it may not be held until his contemplated departmental reorganization is accomplished.

The proposal came from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who wrote the new cabinet member a recommendation that leading representatives of industry, labor and government be called together to seek a program for avoidance of strife in the reconversion period.

Schwellenbach in an immediate reply assured his former senate colleague that he has "been thinking more and more during these last few weeks about the desirability of calling a conference of industry and labor."

Vandenberg, who was a delegate to the San Francisco conference which set up the United Nations organization, urged that top men in each of the nation's economic divisions follow the example set on the west coast when delegates from fifty nations sat together and "frankly faced" their problems in a "triumph of the council table."

Industrial peace, the Michigan senator wrote, cannot "be dictated by summary legislation." But it can be set up by law, he asserted, "by the common recommendation of all concerned if they can meet together, under proper auspices, to face a challenge which cannot long go unanswered."

Asking "is it impossible to apply this (San Francisco) formula at home" Vandenberg said he was specially concerned lest "needless strife" interfere with reconversion "and permanently jeopardize the country and all its citizenship."

LAVAL APPEARS IN PETAIN CASE

Vichy Chief To Testify At Treason Trial Of Marshal

Paris, Aug. 2 (AP)—Pierre Laval, chief of the Vichy government, will be brought from a prison cell tomorrow to testify in the treason trial of Marshal Petain.

Rejecting a defense protest, the court announced after heated debate among the jurors that it would summon the former French premier who had been called the aged marshal's "evil genius."

The decision regarding Laval, himself facing treason charges, was announced after the afternoon recess.

Attorneys pointed out that summoning Laval as a witness "undoubtedly would mean" the trial would be prolonged by days.

Judge Paul Mongibeaux said it "would aid greatly in placing responsibility correctly" to bring Laval and Petain together in court.

"I would like to see brought face to face," he added, "the marshal who was only a piece of bricabrac in his leader's hands and his 'evil genius,' Pierre Laval."

Laval will appear as the court's own witness and probably will be removed in the dead of night from his cell in Fresnes prison to Paris.

Britishers Battle Through Water To Trap Japs In Burma

Calcutta, Aug. 2 (AP)—British and empire troops, sometimes forced to wear Mae West life preservers in crossing monsoon-flooded streams, have beaten back fresh Japanese attempts to cross the Sittang River and escape toward Thailand, the southeast Asia command announced today.

The difficult jungle fighting is continuing in the area between the Mandalay-Rangoon road and the Sittang River along a stretch 40 to 150 miles north of Rangoon. More than 6,000 enemy troops were killed in this area in recent days.

Troops back from the front said rains had turned normally narrow streams into raging torrents, necessitating use of life preservers. Shoulder-deep mud and malarial mosquitoes added to the difficulties, and troops are being pulled back to dry quarters after three days at the front because of the danger of foot rot, they said.

NEWSPAPERS FOR NAVY

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Navy is planning to publish a chain of daily newspapers in the Pacific and a weekly magazine along the lines of the Army's "Yank" and the Marine Corps' "Leatherneck."

"Navy News" has been chosen as the newspaper's name.

PLANE STRIKES HOUSE; TWO DIE

Mother And Daughter, 6, Escape Injury In Pontiac Crash

Pontiac, Mich., Aug. 2 (AP)—Two Army fliers were killed this afternoon when an air transport training plane crashed into a house and garage at John R. and Sixteen Mile Road in Oakland county.

A mother and her six-year-old daughter who were in the house at the time were uninjured. The dead were identified by the Romulus army air base as Second Lt. Stanley Perrin, 36, Pontiac, Mich., and Flight Officer Louis J. Mikolajak, Buffalo, N. Y.

The mother, Mrs. Eric Franze, was in the living room when the crash occurred, and the daughter, Karen, was in the front doorway. She was thrown into the living room by the concussion.

The upper bedroom of the home was demolished and 40 of the 52 chickens and two rabbits in the yard and garage were killed. Elmer Overpeck of Detroit, the only witness to the crash, said the plane, an AT6 hit the ground and then bounced, crashing into the house and garage.

Overpeck, who said he was flying in a private plane nearby when the accident occurred, said the plane apparently developed engine trouble.

The army air base said the two officers were assigned to Sheppard Field, Tex., and were here on temporary duty with the Detroit Area Army Flight Service.

War Deaths Near Quarter Million

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Almost a quarter million American soldiers and sailors have died in the war—a total 249,264.

Army figures announced today by Secretary of War Stimson show 197,676 dead. The latest Navy count of its killed is 51,588. A week ago the dead were 196,918 for the Army and 51,219 for the Navy.

Total casualties from all causes for both services are 1,060,727, or 1,885 more than the 1,058,842 army wounded are 570,766, missing 34,734 and prisoners of war 117,741. Navy wounded are 72,855, missing 11,611 and prisoners 3,756.

Refunds On Income Taxes Speeded Up

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—If you are one of the 11 million people still waiting for refunds on income taxes, cheer up. It won't be long now.

Secretary of the Treasury Vinson announced today that refunds are being stepped up with a view to completing the work between September 1 and September 15. The goal set earlier was October 15.

BUDGETER REAPPOINTED

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fred C. Striffler was reappointed state budget director by Governor Kelly today. Striffler, whose home was in Caro, was appointed to the position in 1943.

RETURN TRIP TO U.S. BEGUN BY PRESIDENT

TALK WITH BRITISH MONARCH HELD ON WARSHIP

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

With President Truman Aboard Cruiser Augusta, Aug. 2 (AP)—Obviously in high spirits, President Truman started home aboard this famous warship today after concluding the Big Three conference and holding a 20-minute luncheon conference with King George VI of England.

The talk with the British monarch was held aboard H. M. S. Ship Renown off the war-scarred port of Plymouth, England.

The president had flown to England from Potsdam aboard the famous C-54, "The Sacred Cow." He landed at Harrower airport, about eight miles north of Plymouth.

"Good Ol' Arry" Accompanied by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Admiral William D. Leahy, his chief of staff, he drove to the Plymouth area to the cheers of English crowds.

The greeting, "Good Ol' Harry" from a simple countryman, shouted from the roadside, warmed his heart as much as the more formal ceremony later aboard the battle cruiser Renown.

As they went aboard the Renown, the shrill of piping was followed by the Star Spangled Banner, played by Royal Marines, and the president stood bareheaded at the top of the ladder until it was finished.

The king, who had been waiting at the rail with the Earl of Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, shook hands and chatted with the president on the quarterdeck. Later, after inspection of the guard of honor, they adjourned to the admiral's quarters for further talk and lunch.

It was the first meeting in Britain between an American president and a British monarch since President Wilson's visit after the first World War.

Truman had chatted privately with the king in the admiral's quarters for 20 minutes before lunch.

The ceremony aboard the Augusta two hours later followed the same pattern. Truman returned to the Augusta first, and almost in the wake of his barge the king arrived to pay his return respects.

The ship band first played the National Anthem and then "God Save the King" as the British monarch hurried—almost ran—up the gangplank. He was met by Truman on the quarterdeck.

This time, however, the Augusta (Continued on Page Two)

Famed Lyric Tenor Fiske O'Hara Dies

Hollywood, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fiske O'Hara, 67, for 30 years a lyric tenor on stage, screen and radio, died today.

On the stage, where he was best known, O'Hara played a leading part in the light opera, "Robin Hood."

The big three defined Poland as taking in the territory east of a line "from the Baltic Sea immediately west of Swinemunde, and thence along the Oder River to the confluence of the western Neisse River and along the western Neisse to the Czechoslovak frontier, including that portion of East Prussia not placed under the administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

The new border would be almost a straight line from the Baltic above the important port of Stettin to Dresden, almost on the Czechoslovak frontier.

The big three gave Poland a long new Baltic coast, apparently including the well developed port of Danzig.

As for politics, the big three congratulated themselves on having finally worked out the problem of two Polish governments and having agreed to deal only with the administration at Warsaw.

Powers Unite To End Nazi War Menace

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—Highlights of the report on the tripartite conference:

President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee leave this conference, which has strengthened the ties between the three governments and extended the scope of their collaboration and understanding, with renewed confidence that their governments and peoples, together with the other United Nations, will ensure the creation of a just and enduring peace.

German militarism and Nazism will be extirpated and the Allies will take in agreement together, now and in the future, the other measures necessary to assure that Germany never again will threaten her neighbors or the peace of the world.

It is not the intention of the Allies to destroy or enslave the German people, it is the intention of the Allies that the German people be given the opportunity to prepare for the eventual reconstruction of their life on a democratic and peaceful basis.

In order to eliminate Germany's war potential, the production of arms, ammunition and implements of war as well as all types of aircraft and sea-going ships shall be prohibited and prevented.

At the earliest practicable date, the German economy shall be decentralized for the purpose of eliminating the present excessive concentration of economic power as exemplified in particular by cartels, syndicates, trusts and other monopolistic arrangements.

For their part, the three governments have included the preparation of a peace treaty for Italy as the first among the immediate important tasks to be undertaken by the new council of foreign ministers.

The three governments . . . would not favor any application for membership (in the United Nations organization) put forward by the present Spanish government, which having been founded with the support of the axis powers, does not, in view of its origins, its nature, its record, and its close association with the aggressor states, possess the qualifications necessary to justify such membership.

Reconversion Job Proposed For WPB

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—John W. Snyder, director of mobilization, shortly will recommend to President Truman that the War Production Board's operations be extended to cover the field of reconversion.

The proposal would enable WPB to use its broad wartime priority powers to break bottlenecks which might obstruct a rapid return to high-level peacetime industrial activity.

WPB would work under policies laid down by directive from Snyder as director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

CRASH VICTIM IDENTIFIED

Detroit, Aug. 2 (AP)—T/Sgt. James Burda of Chicago was identified today as the American flier killed Wednesday when a medium bomber from the Selridge Field army air base crashed into Lake Erie. Names of the four French fliers who were killed were withheld by army officers.

Further, the Big Three determined that German economy shall be rid of cartels, trusts "and other monopolistic arrangements." All these things are to be done under the four power control council, which includes France.

Headquarters In London The five power council of foreign ministers includes those officials of Britain, Russia, China, France and the United States.

Their first meeting is to be held in London by September 1. London will be the permanent headquarters of the council.

These five are the permanent members of the council of the proposed United Nations organization—the eleven-member body designed to keep the peace.

Empire State Crash Conditions Analyzed

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—An official fire department report indicated today that the B-25 bomber which crashed into the Empire State building last Saturday, causing the death of 14 persons, was fighting for altitude when the accident occurred.

"The raising of the flooring on the 79th floor at point of impact would indicate that the plane was ascending at time of crash," said the report, prepared by Chief Fire Marshal Thomas P. Brophy.

The report also said that a special weather report made 21 minutes after the crash gave the ceiling as 800 feet and the visibility as one and one-half miles.

The Empire State building is 1,248 feet high.

NOTHING SAID ABOUT RUSSIA FIGHTING JAPS

PACIFIC WAR HINTS SPUR CONJECTURE IN WASHINGTON

By John M. Hightower

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—The big three announced creation of a super-council to write a big power peace for shattered Europe today in a report on their Potsdam conference which remained silent on the great enigma—Russia's role in the Pacific.

In a 6,000-word communication, the heads of state of the United States, Great Britain and Russia also outlined plans to collect reparations from guilty Germany, and took a slap at the Franco government of Spain.

"Military Matters" Covered There was only one reference—and that indirect—to the war against Japan.

And the only reference to military matters came in the two closing lines, just before the signatures "J. V. Stalin, Harry S. Truman, C. R. Atlee":

"During the conference there were meetings between the chiefs of staffs of the three governments on military matters of common interest."

The outstanding military matter in the world today, for those fighting and for those not fighting, is the Japanese war. Hence the terse reference to "military matters" immediately spurred the wildest conjecture in Washington.

Powers Achieve Unity Today's formal statement was issued as President Truman started homeward aboard the cruiser Augusta.

It indicated, observers here were prompt to conclude, that a high degree of understanding had been reached by the chiefs of the three greatest powers occupying Germany—Russian, British and the U. S. A.

The Big Three agreed that in political matters "so far as is practicable there shall be uniformity of treatment of the German population throughout Germany."

In economic questions, they said "Germany shall be treated as a single economic unit" in all matters of industry, farming, trade, money, transport and communications, and reparations.

German administrative machinery is to be used to the fullest extent in carrying out those objectives, the communique declared, so that "it should be brought home to the German people that the responsibility for the administration of such controls and any breakdown in these controls will rest with themselves."

Further, the Big Three determined that German economy shall be rid of cartels, trusts "and other monopolistic arrangements." All these things are to be done under the four power control council, which includes France.

State's Planning Board Expanded

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—John W. Gibson of Detroit, president of the Michigan CIO council, and Earl Shaw of New City, a board member of the Michigan Federation of Labor, were appointed by Governor Kelly today to the state planning commission.

Robert R. Wright of Ironwood, a commissioner member since the body was organized, was reappointed.

The appointment of the two labor representatives was to comply with legislative action enlarging the commission from 15 to 21 members, two to be representatives of labor.

PRISON WARDEN POSTS SHIFTED

Temporary Appointments Bring Gerald F. Bush To Marquette

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—Garrett Heyns, state corrections director, today placed three temporary wardens in charge of Michigan penal institutions.

He named Gerald F. Bush, a member of the state parole board, to be acting warden of the Marquette branch prison.

Dr. David P. Phillips, psychiatrist at the Ionia reformatory, was made acting warden of that institution.

Heyns named Warden Ralph E. Benson of the Marquette prison to be acting warden of the state prison of southern Michigan to operate that penitentiary until the State Civil Service commission has decided whether Harry H. Jackson, dismissed warden, and six of his assistants, are to be reinstated to their jobs. They were removed on charges of maladministration.

Heyns said that Warden Joel R. Moore of the Ionia reformatory was seriously ill in a hospital and that William Edith, veteran captain of the guards was running the Marquette institution in Benson's absence.

Heyns emphasized that the appointments were purely temporary and that they did not indicate the corrections commission's plan for administration of the prisons in the future.

Because he will have to be away from the prison of southern Michigan some of the time, Heyns said he wanted Benson's authority there clearly established. Heyns and Benson took over operation of the prison when Jackson was removed.

Bush was one of a group of prison officials and parole board members kidnapped by escaping convicts at the Marquette prison in September, 1939.

Bids On Michigan Building Program Prove Excessive

Lansing, Aug. 2 (AP)—Bids on projects for Michigan's $20,000,000 state building program are so "excessive" the program almost has been halted, A. N. Langius, state building director, reported today.

He declared bids were running 20 to 35 per cent ahead of revised 1945 appropriations. He said his department recently received a bid of $300 to install a $25 sink in a state institution.

"We are going ahead with plans and specifications but we certainly do not intend to release jobs at present prices," Langius stated.

OUTLOOK GOOD IN CHINA, HIGH GENERALS SAY

CHENNAULT THINKS INVASION NEEDED TO WHIP NIPPON

BY SPENCER HOOSA

Chungking, Aug. 2 (AP)—Lt. Gen. William H. (Texas Bill) Simpson, former commander of the U. S. Ninth Army in Germany, and Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault told a press conference today that the situation in China was very bright for Allied arms.

Chennault said, however, that he did not believe air attack alone would defeat the Japanese and that it would be necessary to invade Japan.

The retiring commander of the U. S. 14th Air Force made the assertion despite his prediction that within a month the enemy would be unable to move personnel or supplies to or from the Asiatic mainland, and that within four to six months the situation in Japan would become "very bad."

"Even if we starved her almost to complete death," air action alone would not defeat Japan, he declared.

Supply Port Promised

Chennault, holding his first general press conference in Chungking in his eight years in China, said the chances were good for opening a seaport on the China coast before the end of the year to supply China's armies.

Chennault said he hoped to return to China after his impending trip to the United States, though he had no definite plans to do so.

Tonight Chennault was given the most enthusiastic demonstration of good-will ever accorded a foreigner by the Chinese people at a farewell mass meeting sponsored by 169 Chinese organizations in the Chungking area.

Ku Cheng-kang, minister of social affairs and of agriculture and forestry, said Chennault was a gallant warrior and the first foreigner to receive China's highest decoration, the Order of Blue Sky and White Sun.

Muskegon Hunters Lose First Round In Venison Cause

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 2 (AP)—Justice Joseph G. Segar today denied a defense attorney's motion to quash charges of illegal possession of venison against three Muskegon men.

The trio, apprehended by state conservation officers in an extensive state-wide road blockade July 22, are James W. Burns, 38, George Parrish, 31, and Milford Reed, 34. They are free on $1,000 bail each. Their trial has been scheduled for Aug. 6.

The justice said he denied the motion because conservation officers had received advance report on game law violations and had obtained the license number (Burns' automobile).

The attorney general ruled last week against the practice of conservation officers setting up road blockades and stopping vehicle indiscriminately.

NOTHING SAID ABOUT RUSSIA FIGHTING PAPS

"As its immediate important task," the communique said, "the council shall be authorized to draw up, with a view of their submission to the United Nations, treaties of peace with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland, and the proposed settlement of territorial questions outstanding on the termination of the war in Europe.

"The council shall be utilized for the preparation of a peace settlement for Germany to be accepted by a government of Germany when a government adequate for the purpose is established."

People May Rebuild

In setting up the controls for Germany on the general objective of destroying German militarism and Nazism, the Allies declared that the German people must be given the opportunity to prepare for rebuilding their life peacefully and democratically.

This produced the only statement on possible duration of occupation in the Reich:

"If their own efforts are steadily directed to this end, it will be possible for them in due course to take their place among the free and peaceful peoples of the world."

The communique laid down a framework for collecting reparations from Germany on the principle that Russia should collect its claims and those of Poland from the Russian zone of occupation, while Britain, the United States and other countries entitled to reparations should get theirs from the British, American and French zones.

Both the eastern and western claimants would also have access to "appropriate German external assets."

Equipment For Russia

In addition, Russia also is to receive from the western zones 15 per cent of certain types of machine tool, chemical and metallurgical manufacturing equipment removed from those zones in exchange for an equivalent value of food, coal, oil and other natural products of eastern Germany.

Russia is also to receive 10 per cent of whatever industrial capital equipment is extracted from the western zones without any exchange or return at all. The principle to be applied in removing this equipment for reparations is that it should not be necessary for the German peace economy.

A possible clue to duration of the initial period of occupation in Germany is found in two periods fixed in the communique. The amount of equipment to be removed from the western zones must be determined within six months from now, that is, by the end of next January. Beyond that, removal of the equipment itself must be completed in two years, that is by the end of January 1948.

On the other hand, the communique indicates that Russia has five years from the present in which to make the deliveries of natural products for which she is to get the 15 per cent of chemical, metallurgical and machine manufacturing equipment from the western zones.

Poles Get Territory

On the western boundary of Poland, it was determined that, pending a final determination—presumably in a peace treaty—the Poles should get all German territories east of the line from the Baltic Sea, west of Swinemunde, along the Oder River to the Neisse and along the Neisse to the Czechoslovak frontier. That gives to Poland also, all of East Prussia which is not taken over by the Soviet Union.

The slap at Franco's government in Spain came when the big three said that they were ready to support applications for United Nations membership from the European countries neutral in the recent war which conformed with requirements of being peace-loving states, but added:

"The three governments feel bound however to make it clear that they for their part would not favor any application for membership put forward by the present Spanish government, which, having been founded with the support of the axis powers, does not

Army Discharge Point Score Unchanged At 85

Washington, Aug. 2. (AP)—The army turned thumbs down today on proposals for faster demobilization and emphasized that stand by postponing indefinitely any change in the 85 points required for soldier discharges.

Earlier the service had expected to fix late in July a lower "critical" score for release under the point discharge system. The postponement means that eventually men now going to the Pacific will get point credits for combat and overseas service. There is no change in the plan ultimately to fix another and probably lower score.

Retention, for the time, of the 85 point requirement was announced by Secretary Stimson.

The planned discharge rate contemplates cutting the army back to 7,000,000 men by next June 1, with a total of 2,000,000 enlisted men and 100,000 officers to be released by that time. About 1,500,000 of the discharges will be on points and the remainder for such causes as wounds, age and illness. The discharges will not be net loss, part being offset by 800,000 inductions.

The present discharge score of 85 will be continued, the army said, until 800,000 now eligible on the basis of service, time overseas, combat and parenthood have been released. No date was even estimated for the fixing of the new count requirement for discharge of an additional 700,000. At that

NEW OIL SHALE PROCESS USED

Socony - Vacuum Outfit Develops Method Of Extraction

Paulsboro, N. J.—Petroleum is successfully and efficiently extracted from oil shale by a new process developed here by scientists of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, and the new method has been placed at the disposal of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. By it from 17 to 40 gallons of oil were obtained from each ton of shale in experimental studies.

The new method employs a retort, a long vertical container 67 feet high, which departs from conventional processes in that the shale is preheated at 500 degrees Fahrenheit by the counter-current flow of hot gases which sweep the oil vapors from the retort.

The crushed shale is fed into the retort at its top through a suitable feed leg, then moves downward by gravity. The heating gases are introduced at the bottom of the retorting zone. The oil vapors and escaping gases are taken off at the top of the retort, and the oil is recovered in a series of condensers. The spent shale is withdrawn from the bottom.

Crude shale oil recovered from the retorting process is very waxy, highly unsaturated and high in sulfur and nitrogen.

In New Guinea there are mountains nearly 15,000 feet high which are snow-capped the year round.

Telephone Service At Escanaba Cut Off By High Crane

Outside telephone service for Escanaba was cut off Thursday afternoon at 1:15 when a wrecking crane being moved down the tracks to the ore dock salvage operations tore down all main trunk wires on the north side of the city.

A total of 38 circuits were out for a period of almost three hours as local telephone crews rushed temporary repairs and connected the severed telephone and telegraph wires. Service was restored in time for the start of the Daily Press news wire teletype report from Detroit at 4 p. m.

Construction men were called from Menominee, and began permanent repair work immediately, working until dark last night. The job will be resumed today, and will be completed by afternoon.

Tinker Says Imports Of Swedish Pulp Will Not Help Much

There will be no sudden increase in United States paper production resulting from the resumption of deliveries of pulp to this country by Swedish pulp manufacturers, according to E. W. Tinker, Executive Secretary of the American Paper and Pulp Association. Several factors will operate against a radical upswing of paper production. Among these are:

1. The industry is already operating at a high ratio of production to capacity using domestic and Canadian pulp. The paper manufacturers are operating at about 90 per cent of estimated capacity and the paperboard manufacturers' rate is over 95 per cent.
2. Domestic pulpwood receipts and inventories are precariously low in some regions, especially the important Northeastern region.
3. Pulp inventories are dangerously low and will absorb several hundred thousand tons of pulp before they can be called normal.
4. It will take some time for an appreciable volume of Swedish pulp to reach this country with presently available transportation facilities.
5. Shortages of other non-fibrous raw materials are threatened. Rosin size is critical at the moment and may become dangerously short unless satisfactory substitutes are developed.
6. The labor shortage in the mills and in the woods has by no means been overcome. The threatened withdrawal of German prisoners of war from wood harvesting next fall poses a real problem, especially in the great Southern paper industry.
7. Increased pulp supplies when available may be required to restore prewar bases of weight without increasing the yardage made.

"These are some of the problems which face this industry," Mr. Tinker said. "The amazing resourcefulness of the American paper manufacturers has surprised many, and this resourcefulness has by no means deserted them. But, in my opinion, it is asking the impossible to expect restoration of prewar qualities and a continuous rate of production at 100 per

Yanks Prove Good Denazifiers; People Regain Civil Jobs

Washington, Aug. 2. (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today that American forces are successfully denazifying their zone in Germany and already are returning civil responsibilities to the German people.

Just returned from Potsdam and an inspection of Bavaria, Stimson told a news conference the Germans are cooperating with their captors "with negligible evidence of underground activity" while the American soldier is providing a fine salesman of "the advantages of a free society."

Newberry Company Restrained From Employing Minors

The Newberry Lumber and chemical company of Newberry is permanently restrained from employing minors under 16 and from employing minors under 18 in its logging operations. Judgment against the firm has been signed by Federal District Judge Fred M. Raymond following a contested case.

The suit filed on behalf of the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor charged the company with permitting children under 16 years of age to work as cutters, sawers and stackers. The government also charged that the company employed minors under 18 in prohibited logging occupations.

Last month the company was fined $5,000 and found guilty of criminal contempt of court by Judge Raymond for continuing to violate the overtime and record-keeping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act despite a federal court injunction prohibiting the continuance of the Wage

Allocate Millage Fraction To County

The Delta county tax allocation commission in meeting Wednesday night at the court house allocated a minor fraction of one mill to the county, and reducing the allocation to the cities to conform to recent legislation. The change is expected to mean about $1,000 additional tax revenue for the county.

Supervisor H. L. Gustafson of Ensign presided at the meeting called by County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen.

The new allocation for the county is from 6.1 to 6.19 mills. Escanaba and Gladstone cities will receive 1 one-thousandths of a mill instead of one-tenth mill. The allocation to the schools and the townships remains unchanged.

FIRE DESTROYS SHED ON FARM

Blaze Damages House On
Leo Gareau Place
At Flat Rock

Fire starting in a shed on a farm owned by Leo Gareau of Flat Rock and rented by Joseph Newen destroyed the shed and damaged the farm house at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Escanaba firemen from No. 2 station who were called to help extinguish the blaze said the fire started when a hay pile near the shed caught fire while children were playing with matches.

Embers from the burning shed were blown by a strong wind to the northwest corner of the house above a porch, and started a fire in the side of the house near the kitchen. The fire in the dwelling was extinguished before much damage had been done.

Neighbors and other volunteer fire fighters assisted Escanaba firemen and conservation officers in keeping the fire under control and preventing its spread. Several times burning embers started grass fires in the vicinity of the buildings. City firemen were at the scene for one and one-half hours before the last danger was over.

Conservation officers warned that with continued high winds the plains and grass areas of the county have become hazardous from a forest fire standpoint.

Loggers Problems Discussed At Meet

Iron River—R. S. Kingston, Cleveland, O., area director of the wage-hour division, Department of Labor, and Thomas A. Hermanson, Detroit, state director, discussed their problems before 100 loggers, jobbers, pulpwood producers and sawmill operator who attended a meeting of the Timber Producers association here yesterday.

Their talks dealt principally with wage stabilization, which has been causing producers difficulty. As a result of the efforts of the speakers the federal agency and the loggers are agreed on a co-operative plan.

Another speaker in the afternoon session at the Stambaugh Recreation center, was Al Weppler, Escanaba, of the ODT office, who spoke on the allocation of trucks and tires for woods operations. He held out little hope that operators would get all the tires they ask for.

Problems affecting production of logs, pulpwood and lumber were discussed last night at a dinner at the Iron Inn by Howard

Keep Japs in the Dark

ALTHOUGH the Nazis have been defeated and the Japs seem to be on the run, there is still a need for avoiding careless talk that might give the enemy valuable military information.

The War Advertising Council, in cooperation with the Office of War Information, has launched a new campaign to warn the American people of the presence of spies in the pay of Japan. The enemy does not use Japs for the espionage work because they would too easily arouse suspicion, but they have been able to utilize German agents and even some Americans.

That Japanese espionage is effective was demonstrated by the fact that the enemy knew about the B-29 bombers six months before it was taken off the secret list. The Japs have also learned about our troop movements by gathering scraps of information here and there.

The public is cautioned not to talk about locations or movements of men, ships and materials within, to, or from the Pacific-Asiatic area. Military information gained in confidence should not be discussed.

Careless talk helps the Japs. The cost of final victory will depend on surprise. By catching the Japs off guard we can cut down our losses in killed and wounded and get our men back home sooner.

Postwar Home Heating

INQUIRIES received here from England about Escanaba's central heating system tend to confirm reports that in the rebuilding of English cities, badly damaged by Luftwaffe bombs early in the war, the community furnace idea will be utilized.

London and other English cities have been making plans for huge public housing programs for many months now, and the victory of the Labor government gives promise that such programs will be expanded.

Interest in central heating is on the increase in the United States. A community-wide central heating system has become, for instance, the No. 1 postwar project for Chisholm, Minn., a community about 7,500 population. The Chisholm city council recently passed an ordinance which grants a franchise for furnishing steam heat and electric power to the entire city from one central plant.

Thus, Chisholm follows in the footsteps of another Minnesota community, Virginia, which installed a community-wide central heating plant in the spring of 1944.

Central heating eliminates the need for individual furnace stoking and ash handling. It permits the building of homes without basements, as has been the case in Virginia, Minn. In Virginia and other communities where central heat is available, the smoke nuisance has been abated, and as a result the citizens have lower house painting, laundry and cleaning costs.

A Chance to Help

IF YOU find it difficult to get on a train, remember that the railroads and the Pullman Company, by order of the Office of Defense Transportation, have withdrawn from service all sleeping cars operating between points 450 miles or less apart. The action was made necessary by unexpectedly heavy arrivals of troops from Europe.

This action makes available an additional 895 Pullman cars and gives the military the exclusive use of about half the sleeping cars operating in the United States. These cars afford a greater measure of comfort to our troops moving to the west coast prior to embarkation to the Pacific theatre.

It is interesting to note that in 1918, with a total of approximately 41,000 coaches and sleeping cars, the railroads performed 42,676,000,000 passenger-miles of service.

In 1944, with approximately 27,700 passenger-carrying cars, the railroads performed 95,575,000,000 passenger-miles and the 1945 passenger load is expected to mount 10 per cent, to more than 100,000,000,000 passenger-miles, or nearly two and one-half times the 1918 passenger load—to be moved in 30 per cent less passenger carrying equipment.

On account of wartime restrictions, the railroads have been unable to buy passenger-carrying cars. The hauling job and the maintenance job they have done with the equipment at hand is almost beyond belief. They have rendered service more expeditiously, more courteously and with less waste than in 1918 when there was vastly more equipment, more engines and much more manpower.

You can do your part to help out in the greatest transportation job in history by traveling only when necessary for purposes other than pleasure.

More Butter

TWO news items about the butter situation, appearing in yesterday's edition of the Press, must have both irked and pleased our readers.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington reported a reduction in the amount of creamery butter set aside for the military services would make 10,000,000 more pounds available in August than originally allotted. No reduction in the ration point value was ordered, however.

The second news item, datelined Berkeley, Calif., doubtless made many readers mad. It stated that 16,000 pounds of rancid butter had been used since January in the making of soap at a plant located there. Some use had to be made of the spoiled butter, of course, and the soap will serve a good purpose.

Much of the butter has gone rancid at creameries and retail stores because the ration point values were placed too high. Much more went to waste because the government purchased more than it needed. Now that the military services are reducing their requirements, thereby releasing more butter for civilian use, it is to be hoped that OPA will make it possible, through a readjustment of red point values, for the consuming public to buy it.

"Unloaded" Gun Menace

GUNSHOT accidents appear to be taking an increased toll of lives on the home front in recent months. Almost daily the newspapers carry stories of tragedies that could have been averted except for human carelessness.

The game of playing war has become popular again. Children go into the closets for guns to put on military drills and otherwise the heroes of the real, bloody fighting over there. German and Japanese guns sent home by members of the armed forces overseas also have been involved in serious accidents. Japanese rifles, it is pointed out, are particularly treacherous for they are not built to stand the pressure of high-powered ammunition made in this country.

Most of the accidents occur, however, when children and even grownups point the "unloaded" gun at persons and playfully pull the trigger. Too often, the "unloaded" gun was found to be loaded, and too late. An ancient gun safety rule, of course, is never to point a gun at anyone in jest, but the advice still goes unheeded.

Other Editorial Comments

MONSTERS TO THE FORE (Detroit Free Press)

The Monster Department is looking up. Not many days ago the Loch Ness Monster, grandpaw of 'em all, was reported far from its native Scotland—in Norway, if we remember correctly. Now comes a spate.

Off Deer Island, Mass., a scientist hooked and landed a 90-pound Thing, with hand-like appendages on its palate and underbody, a huge mouth and side-flippers. Other Monsters turned up near the delta of the Tyne, in England, and near Umae in Sweden.

There's something about Monsters that fascinates the human mind. Monsters go back in sea lore to the Kraken and Scylla.

It is no coincidence that all but one of the recent brood—and it was the only one caught, and not simply "seen"—were reported from Europe. Peace has come to Europe and Monsters are most plentiful when news is slack. After V-J Day, they'll be a monstrous glut from the Pacific Ocean.

Or is it just the silly season again?

BRADLEY LIKES TRUMAN (Marquette Eagle-Star)

Congressman Bradley of the eleventh Michigan district returns to his bailiwick to voice unqualified praise for the statesmanship of President Harry S. Truman and for the manner in which he has taken hold to "clean up the mess" by the New Deal. He adds that under Mr. Truman's leadership the public will again be kept informed about government affairs.

Mr. Bradley is peculiarly sensitive about the red tape of censorship, domestic as well as military, and with good reason. He recalls that during visits to his district he informed constituents, in response to questions, that the condition of the late President Roosevelt's health was not good. When such reports were traced to the Michigan congressman, he was charged with spreading propaganda for political purposes or worse still, taking the name of the President in vain.

It has since developed that the congressman was correct and that the public had been deliberately deceived. As he points out, official bulletins represented the President's health as being good when, in fact, it was generally known to be precarious. It was also common knowledge that Mr. Roosevelt at times was unable, due to serious illness, to carry on his duties at the White House.

Mr. Bradley knew the true situation, but because official confirmation was lacking he was branded a propagandist and even a liar, on occasions.

SURPRISE WORD OF THE WEEK

Q. Recently, on my radio, an Army surgeon used the word "cosmetic" in connection with plastic surgery to restore the disfigured faces of wounded servicemen. We are greatly puzzled. Was it just a slip of the tongue?

A. It's hard to believe, but the primary and literal meaning of cosmetic is "that which adorns or decorates." The original Greek word, kosmetikos, means "one skilled in adorning." In ancient Rome,

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington — All during the Potsdam conference, the Russian-controlled radio in the Soviet zone in Germany has kept up an intermittent attack on American and British occupying forces.

The charge is that we are working with Fascist and reactionary elements. Various changes are played on this theme. Occasionally, specific names and places are cited.

The contrast always is with Russia's streamlined performance. It is a contrast that deserves careful examination, for it is full of meaning for the future.

To put their plan into operation in their zone in Germany, the Russians are using Wilhelm Pieck, a former German Communist who fled to Moscow with the coming of Hitler and has lived there ever since. A significant bit of history throws light on Pieck's past.

Pieck, at a meeting of the Communist International in Moscow in 1935, proposed abolition of the Comintern, with its direction of Communist activities all over the world. It was no longer necessary, he argued. The individual Communist parties in each country were so well disciplined that they did not need to have the signals called by a Comintern.

—COMINTERN ABOLISHED IN 1943—
The proposal was rejected in 1935. Not until 1943 was the Comintern formally abolished. Pieck has now become head of the Communist party in Germany. He will need no signals from a Comintern.

In their zone in Germany, in Austria, in Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria, the Russians have sponsored coalition governments made up of representatives of three or four Left Wing or Moderate parties. But in each instance, the Communists hold key posts in the ministries of interior and justice. More often than not, these are Austrian or Rumanian or Bulgarian Communists who have lived in exile in Moscow, as did Pieck, and who gave evidence of having been thoroughly prepared to take over.

They do a careful job of handpicking those within the approved parties who are permitted to become active. Others are denounced as Fascists. Within the past two weeks, the term "Reactionary" has been used more often than "Fascist" on the propaganda radio in eastern Europe. The need is stressed to eliminate "Reactionary Elements." These elements are sometimes identified with Catholicism and the Catholic church.

Strong-arm tactics are used against those who dare to oppose, even in Democratic fashion, the system of "Free Political Activity" instituted by the Soviets. Although almost no American correspondents have been allowed inside the Russian sphere, reports filter out now and then which reveal the technique.

—NO OVERALL PLAN—
By contrast, our performance in Germany looks sloppy. American reporters and commentators have had a great deal to say about that. We have fumbled. We have improvised. Part of the trouble derives, of course, from the failure of the three major occupying powers to get together on an overall plan.

But the difficulties we have encountered in our zone go deeper, and we ought to face it frankly. In Soviet Russia, the power is all focused in a small group of men at the top who think and act as one. Here in our democracy are many forces pulling in many different directions.

Those same forces, pulling and hauling in different directions, make their influence felt in our policy of occupation in Germany. It is not trimmed down to one piece. There are gaps and uncertainties.

Whether it will be possible, in the light of this pulling and hauling, to evolve a workable policy is still a question.

It may be that a democracy as diffuse and as little disciplined as ours cannot by its very nature perform such a task.

We should, however, avoid the mistake of assuming that we could follow the Russians' hard-boiled technique. Even if we wanted to, we could not do that.

The reason is simple. Only a one-party, narrowly controlled state—a dictatorship—can operate that way.

If we should recognize that, so should the Russians. It is disquieting that their propaganda dovetails with the line of latent underground Fascism in Europe—that America is a chaotic and helpless state which does not know how to use its power.

That is the surest way to drive a wedge between Europe and the western world. We must recognize our differences and respect our rights to those differences, or there will be no peace in the world.

the word cosmetes designated, "the slave who has charge of the wardrobe and toiletries of his mistress."

Thus we see that "cosmetics," in the meaning of "make-ups," is only figurative. In medical language, the term cosmetology is used to describe the performing of "cosmetic operations," i. e., restoring scarred or burned areas to normal appearance.

Q. What is the origin of the phrase, "mad as a hatter"? We in this family can think only of the Mad Hatter in Alice in Wonderland. Is that it?

A. "Mad as a hatter" was a popular expression before Lewis Carroll wrote of Alice's adventures in Wonderland, and the expression doubtless suggested the character of the Mad Hatter. That this theory is logical is shown by Carroll's creation of the March Hare, another member of the delightfully insane tea party which Alice attended. The expression, "As mad as a March Hare" has been in common use since the 14th century.

The character of the Dormouse, who could not stay awake and had to be thrust head first into the teapot, apparently was suggested by the creature's name: dorm, "to doze," plus mouse. The dormouse is an actual rodent that becomes quite torpid in cold weather.

THE EAGLE'S RETURN — About eight or ten years ago residents of the Garth and Stonington area saw several eagles in that vicinity, and it was reported they were nesting near there.

Since then they have not been seen in that area until the other day, when a party of early-morning fishermen saw a large eagle resting on the roof of the Arne Anderson boat house at Garth.

Mr. Alfred May of Milwaukee, who is visiting the Cleve J. Moores of Escanaba, reported that the eagle appeared to have a "six-foot wing spread" when it took off slowly from the boat house roof. The Moores have a cottage at Garth.

The bird was sighted about 8:30 o'clock in the morning, as the party was returning from a fishing trip. Incidentally, they caught fourteen walleyed pike—all over 25 inches in length.

While the eagle is not uncommon to this section of the United States, they are relatively rare because they demand solitude during nesting time. If their nests are approached too closely they will abandon that area as a nesting ground for years to come.

—BIG FIRE—ALMOST— North Escanaba firemen, responding to a fire call from the war-project ore dock on the north bay shore thought for a time they were in the wrong business. For although the fire was reported out when they arrived, they were told they could go back without even viewing where the fire had been.

They insisted, however, and found that a blaze had started because gasoline fumes had been ignited when a workman tested an acetylene torch too close to a gasoline storage place. Fortunately the blaze was extinguished quickly, or there might have been little to salvage of the project that cost a score or more million dollars.

S.—The gasoline has been stored in a safer place.

MARINE FAMILY.—Anton M. Jessen of 219 Ogden avenue and his wife, the former Eleanor Young, come from a long line of Great Lakes mariners. Anton (Tony) is carrying on the tradition as officer in charge of Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse about 12 miles south of Escanaba in Green Bay.

Tony's father, the late Anton M. Jessen, served in the lighthouse service (now under the Coast Guard) at Plum Island for 30 years; and his grandfather, the late John Jessen of Washington Island, was a Great Lakes sailor. Oldtimers may recall the sailing vessel "Arrow," and other early ships he operated between Washington Island and Milwaukee.

Mrs. Jessen's father, Robert Young, is now visiting her. He recently retired after 33 years in the lighthouse service, coming here from Sheboygan, Wis. He had served at Plum Island for over eight years, at South Haven eight years, and at Pilot Island, Chicago, Kewaunee and Sheboygan for shorter periods.

Her grandfather, the late Morton Jorgensen, was a Great Lakes sailor, owned and skippered the sailing vessel "J. W. Wright." Washington Island was the original "sailing ground" for most of the ancestors of both sides of the family.

Q. What is a monetary allowance in lieu of quarters for dependents?

A. A monetary allowance in lieu of quarters for dependents is a monetary amount paid by the Government under certain circumstances to an enlisted individual in the first three grades in lieu of furnishing such dependents quarters at Government expense. It is paid directly to the enlisted individual as part of his or her own pay and is not paid to the dependent. The enlisted individual allotment of pay of a sum at least equal to the monetary allowance, to an eligible dependent. Family allowance is not paid when the dependent is receiving an allotment of pay at least equal to the monetary allowance (usually about $37.50).

Q. May WAVES serve overseas?

A. Public Law 441, 78th Congress, approved September 27, 1944, permits WAVES to serve in the American area and the Territories of Hawaii and Alaska. No WAVES may be assigned outside the continental United States without her consent, and all those who apply for such duty must meet certain service requirements.

Q. How long, in minutes and seconds, did Joe Louis require to knock out Max Baer?

A. Baer was counted out two minutes and fifty seconds after the start of the fourth round, which made the total elapsed fighting time, eleven minutes and fifty seconds. The bout took place on September 24, 1935.

Q. Why are the boundary lines between time zones in the United States crooked instead of straight north and south lines?

A. The question of changing from the time of one zone to that of an adjacent zone arises in practice largely in the operation of railroads. Because of the inconvenience of changing the time by the necessary amount of one hour at every point where a railroad crosses one of the those boundary lines, the more convenient practice has usually been followed of making the change at some terminal or division or junction point, on the road, or at the boundary line between the United States and Canada. The result is that in practice the boundaries of the time zones are defined by the lines connecting these points of railroad time change. Because of the location of these railroad junctions or terminals the resulting lines are somewhat irregular.

Q. Is there any way for a novice to identify real china or porcelain?

A. Real china, or porcelain, has a non-porous body covered with a glaze of almost the same composition. It appears translucent when held against a lighted bulb and gives a clear ringing sound when held lightly by one point and tapped with a pencil. The rim, saucers, or dishes are unglazed.

Q. After full normal growth has been attained in the late teens, is there any safe way to increase one's height?

A. No.

Q. What is the difference between a "make-up" and a "cosmetic" operation?

A. "Make-up" is only figurative. In medical language, the term cosmetology is used to describe the performing of "cosmetic operations," i. e., restoring scarred or burned areas to normal appearance.

Q. What is the origin of the phrase, "mad as a hatter"? We in this family can think only of the Mad Hatter in Alice in Wonderland. Is that it?

A. "Mad as a hatter" was a popular expression before Lewis Carroll wrote of Alice's adventures in Wonderland, and the expression doubtless suggested the character of the Mad Hatter. That this theory is logical is shown by Carroll's creation of the March Hare, another member of the delightfully insane tea party which Alice attended. The expression, "As mad as a March Hare" has been in common use since the 14th century.

The character of the Dormouse, who could not stay awake and had to be thrust head first into the teapot, apparently was suggested by the creature's name: dorm, "to doze," plus mouse. The dormouse is an actual rodent that becomes quite torpid in cold weather.

APHIDS DAMAGE TREES IN CITY

Favorable Weather Cause Of Increase; Maples Most Affected

The Norway maple aphid, a small green sucking insect that attaches itself to the underside of the leaves, is damaging trees in Escanaba but will not kill any except the smallest trees, City Forester Robert Clayton said yesterday. Even the smaller trees may not be killed should weather conditions change and the aphids decrease in number, he explained. So far there have been no trees found which have died because of the unusually heavy infestation. Many inquiries have come to the city forester's office from local residents concerning the cause of the condition. Leaves are falling from the maples, and their surface is covered with a sticky-sweet substance secreted by the aphids. Often the secretion is so copious it moistens the sidewalk beneath the trees. Because the aphids suck the sap from the tree, it weakens it and causes it to lose some of its leaves. The city forester said there is little that can be done to control the aphids on the larger trees. On the small trees, however, they can be washed from the underside of the leaves by directing a strong stream of water from a hose up through the tree. Under favorable weather conditions such as have prevailed this year the aphids increase rapidly. During one season the females produce eight to eleven generations. A change in the weather would cause an unfavorable condition and they would decrease in number. The city forester said that he does not believe they are increasing now, and that some improvement can be anticipated, although the weakened leaves will continue to fall.

July Cooler, Drier Than Normal Month

The weather for the month of July was slightly cooler and drier than normal, according to the monthly meteorological summary released by Henry E. Hathaway of the weather bureau office in Escanaba. The mean temperature for the past month was 64.6 degrees, compared with a normal of 66.0 the report shows. Highest temperature of the month was 85 degrees on July 24, lowest 42 degrees on the 11th. This compares with 100 degrees on July 30, 1916, the highest on record here for July, and a low of 41 degrees on July 19, 1912, and July 11, 1898. Total sunshine hours were 287 of a possible 475 for the month. Greatest amount of rainfall was 0.88 of an inch July 5, and the month was drier than normal for July by 1.52 of an inch. To the end of July this year, there has been 3.15 inches less precipitation than in normal years.

Details Revealed
On British Fighter

London—Details are now revealed here on the British Westland Welkin stratosphere single-seater fighter, and has an armored pressure cabin and is equipped with four cannons.

The Welkin has a wing-span of 70 feet, is over 41 feet in length, and nearly 16 feet high. Its weight is 17,500 pounds. It is powered by two Rolls-Royce Merlin engines, each of which develops 1,650 horsepower, and by means of a two-stage two-speed supercharger maintains great power at height.

The plane is capable of 385 miles an hour, and has a range of about 1,500 miles. Extreme low temperatures are offset by a sandwich construction in which warm air is pumped between the double layers of glazing forming the pressure-resisting surface of the coupe. This heating device is light, but it keeps the cockpit so warm that special clothing is not needed even when the outside temperature is 78 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Tech Offers Practical Woods Industry Course

Spending three-fifths of their study time in actual outdoor woods work, men enrolling in the 33-weeks Practical Woods Industries School recently established by the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, will begin the first year's session Sept. 29, President Grover C. Dillman announced today. The session ends June 2, 1946. It includes two 12-week terms and one nine-week term. The school is under the direction of Prof. U. J. Noblet, head of the college's four-year course in forestry.

The school was founded to meet the demands of the lumber and woods industries for semi-technically trained men, and also in response to requests from other groups. These include war veterans and high school graduates or prospective graduates who want intensive practical training that leads directly to jobs or is preliminary to a full four-year forestry course.

Job opportunities which may be open to those who complete the course include logging, sawmilling, secondary wood-using plants, and work as forest custodian, forest guard, nurseryman, assistant park custodian, and conservation worker.

"The school should appeal especially to veterans," President Dillman points out. "The courses prepare men for a healthy, productive, outdoor life at reasonable pay—a combination that many veterans want."

The 33 weeks of work cover tree identification, timber estimating, log-scaling, forest surveying, and mapping; the study of various methods of logging, lumbering, lumber scaling and timber-marking in the practice of selective logging, products of the forest, and the protection, care, and growth of the forest.

Enrollees will visit and study numerous woods operations. In addition, they will spend two weeks in the actual felling and bucking of trees, and four weeks in the mill on production jobs.

On completing the course they will receive a certificate attesting the work they have done.

The students' recreational and social life will be amply provided for, and they are entitled to all the extra-curricular advantages enjoyed by those enrolled at the college for degrees.

Men interested should contact the registrar at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology before September 15.

ARREST FOUR FOR POACHING

Isabella Man Kills Deer, 3 Others Illegally Carry Gun

Met by conservation officers as he emerged, rifle in hand, from the woods onto a road, John Bourgeois of Isabella was placed under arrest and is to be arraigned before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson for violation of the game laws.

Conservation Officers Ray Roberts of Nahma and Ernest Rushford, Rapid River, were investigating a rifle shot when they met Bourgeois. He admitted a violation and led officers back into the woods where he showed them a buck deer with a fair sized set of antlers which he had killed. The deer was poor, not weighing more than 125-30 pounds.

The carcass was taken to Escanaba and placed in a storage plant yesterday.

Three other Isabella men also ran afoul of the law. They are Frank Wester, Henry Menary and William Nadeau and when officers arrested them they were on a woods road in a truck in which they had a shotgun and buckshot and ball shells.

They were charged with possession of firearms in game area during closed season without permit.

Henry Menary pleaded guilty before Justice Estenson and was fined $25 and costs of $9.50. Wester and Nadeau are still to be arraigned.

Conservation Officers Roberts and Rushford made the arrests.

GIRL SWIMMERS DOMINATE MEET

MAC Team Here For 4th Went To Town In Acquaintance

Nancy Grubb, Terry Culligan, Peggy Culhane and Barbara Steichen, star girl swimmers of the Minneapolis Athletic club who appeared before rolex crowds here July 4 gave a good account of themselves in the Girls Aquatennial 10,000 Lakes swimming meet held at Minneapolis last week.

Pictures of several of the girls and accounts of the meet appeared in the Minneapolis Star-Journal and the Minneapolis Morning Tribune. The Trib stated:

"Miss Grubb demonstrated she was in a class by herself in the 100-yard breaststroke for girls 16 and over, when she took first in the event in one minute and 35 seconds, knocking two seconds off her former record for the meet which she set last year.

"Besides taking the breaststroke, Miss Grubb splashed her way to victory in the individual relay by beating Dorothy Collins of Des Moines, Iowa, the only other contestant. In that event she alternated with the backstroke, breaststroke and free-style.

"And to top off her performance for the day she anchored the MAC relay to a wide margin victory over Ascension."

The MAC relay team was composed of Peggy Culhane, Terry Culligan, Barbara Steichen and Nancy Grubb, the quartet that visited Gladstone.

Other members of the relay team did alright in the individual events.

Peggy Culhane was second in the 100-meter backstroke, 16 and over, and second in the 100-meter free-style (16 and over); Barbara Steichen won the 50-meter backstroke (14-15) and also the 100-meter free-style for the same age bracket; and Terry Culligan was second in the 50-meter free-style (16 and over).

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Fleet Air Wing Headquarters, Philippines (AP)—Some fliers are superstitious about that last mission, the one that releases them for home and rest. They fear something may happen, just as it did in the case of Lt. (jg.) Robert J. Graham and his navy liberator crew.

Richard C. Bergholz

The mission was their 62nd—and last—when they took off for a Borneo snoop raid. It would be "San Francisco, here we come!" When—and if?—they returned.

In this case, the bugaboo "if?" intervened. Only four of the ten strong young fliers came back and that after wandering through Borneo's wilds as hunted men—sick, half-starved and always in danger of capture by the ruthless Japanese.

Three returned together, 179 days after the mission's start. They had been listed as missing and presumed by their friends to be dead. They were Graham, whose home is at Rosemont, Pa.; Reuben L. Robbins, aviation chief machinist mate, of Omak, Wash.; and James R. Shepherd, aviation machinist's mate 2/c of San Diego, Calif.

Five Were Executed
One of the crew was killed in aerial combat before the liberator was forced down and five others were captured and executed by the Japanese. The tenth, Alvin M. Harms, S 1/c of Holly, Colo., made his way out separately.

The trouble began when four Japanese fighters tackled the liberator near Brunel Bay. One fighter was shot down but two of the bomber's engines were knocked out and the plane made a crash landing.

The bomber belled along on a rice paddy and mud gushed in, filling the plane. The nine live crewmen couldn't find their emergency rations or equipment in the muck.

Traveling without rations, they quickly weakened physically and on the 13-day trek to the nearest, safe village all nine came down with malaria. "It looked for a time like malaria would claim us all," Graham said. But they survived.

"Robbins and Shepherd were flat on their backs for about three weeks," Graham added. "They got so weak at one time that native women had to keep 'em alive by chewing up rice and putting it in their mouths. They didn't have enough strength to munch it."

During the malaria siege, Robbins' weight dropped from 177 to 120 pounds and Shepherd's from 185 to 130.

Word came that enemy patrols were searching for them, so they split in three groups and hid in the jungle. They also heard there were two American army airmen hiding in a nearby village.

Graham, in the best physical condition, made the four-day hike to the village, trailed all the way by Japanese patrols. He contacted the army men and persuaded them to return with him.

They learned the Japanese had caught five members of the original party and executed them. From then on it was an endless, nerve-racking process of dodging the Japanese and finding enough to eat to keep alive. Early last month Graham and his party contacted an Australian agent who had been sent into the interior to organize the natives for the Borneo invasion. They built a crude airstrip out of bamboo slabs imbedded in mud. A small Australian plane carried them out, one by one.

JOHN D. MORRISON

Marquette—Shriners of the Upper Peninsula are set for their trek, Saturday, to Marquette for Ahmed Temple's summer ceremonial, at which a large class of candidates will be initiated, and because wartime restrictions have made it necessary for Ahmed to limit its 1945 program to one reunion, its officers have gone all-out to make Saturday's event a red-letter affair.

John D. Morrison, state auditor general, potentate of Ahmed Temple, will come from Lansing to occupy the official throne. "It's not easy to get away from my duties in Lansing at this time," Morrison says, "but no Shriner will want to miss this reunion. It's really going to be something and I hope to meet all Upper Peninsula Nobles in Marquette."

Highlighting the Shrine day program will be a deluxe entertainment in the Kaufman auditorium of the Graveraet high school Saturday night. It will be open to Shriners and their ladies and headline talent has been furnished by Sid Page, Chicago, who has taken excellent care of the entertainment end of Ahmed's reunions in the past.

Page is bringing singers, dancers, comedians and instrumentalists including Bobbie Kuhn and his Midnight Sons, of Camel Caravan radio fame.

RAIN NEEDED FOR SPUD CROP

County Farmers Growing 200 Acres More Than Last Year

Rainfall is badly needed now for the Schoolcraft county potato fields. Joseph Heirman, county agricultural agent, reported yesterday.

More than 1,000 acres of potatoes are being grown in the county this year, an increase of 200 acres over last year, and the crop at this stage of the growing season looks fine, despite the drought of the past several weeks.

The effect of the drought is just beginning to show, Heirman said, but it will not reduce yields if adequate rainfall comes soon. There has been no evidence of blight in the county thus far, the county agricultural agent reported.

Total rainfall in Manistique during the month of July was 1.63 inches, but most of it came early in the month and the drought has been most severe during the past two weeks.

Despite a late start due to unseasonable cold weather in the spring, the potato vines developed rapidly in early July when warm weather arrived and by the end of the month the progress shown was at least as good as last year for this point in the season.

The first inspection of the certified yields is scheduled to be made next week by state potato experts. Although the total potato acreage in the county is greater than a year ago, there are fewer certified growers here this season. This situation resulted when some of the certified growers and it was not possible to secure certified seed for replacement.

It is still too early to determine whether control measures designed to halt ring rot have been effective in the county.

Heirman reported.

Other farm crops also are coming along nicely although all are in need of moisture now. The grain fields are in good condition and the hay crop, recently harvested, was excellent despite early indications of a crop failure.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matters stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging in the back, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness around the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out the poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Cubs Turn Tables On Pirates; Tiger Streak Pushed To Six Wins

DOUBLE BRINGS SCORE IN SIXTH

Lone Bruin Run Comes With Two Out; Lowrey Saves Game

Chicago, Aug. 2. (AP)—Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey slammed a double into left field today with Don Johnson on first to give the Chicago Cubs a 1 to 0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The game was almost a repetition, in reverse, of Wednesday's game when the Pirates handed the Cubs a 1-0 beating, also on a double, and also in the only inning in which either team could put together two hits.

Only Frank Colman, who replaced Babe Dahlgren at first base yesterday and then sent the winning run across with a double, could get to Paul Derringer today. He singled in the fifth and doubled in the seventh, but his mates couldn't get him around either time.

Derringer's only bad spot came on Colman's double. Phil Cavarretta, Cub first-sacker, cobbled Bill Salkeld's drive down the first base line, and Colman went to third, with but one out. Then Frankie Gustine hit into a double play and the inning was over.

The Cubs' only run came when two were out in the sixth, Johnson hit a sharp single to left, and Lowrey followed with a double, his only hit of the day, to send the tally across.

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh . . . 000 000 00—0 3 0
Chicago . . . 000 001 00x—1 8 2
Gerheuser, Roe and Salkeld; Derringer and Williams.

Ghezzi Is Surprise In Canadian Open

Toronto, Aug. 2. (AP)—Byron Nelson of Toledo, aiming for his 10th straight individual tourney triumph, and Vic Ghezzi of Atlantic City, N. J., tied for the lead today in the first round of the $10,000 Canadian open golf tournament. Each shot a two-under par 68.

Ghezzi, one of the last starters of the day, and virtually unnoticed by the gathering, sprang a surprise by whipping a 34 going out and the same coming in to duplicate Nelson's outgoing and incoming nines.

Fresh from his triumph in the All-American open at Chicago where he shot a record 72-hole total of 269, an amazing 19 under par, Nelson shot even par for the first nine holes, then got hot again. He birdied the 11th, eagled the 14th with a 40-foot putt, went over on the 17th and parred the 18th again for his two-under 68 on the tough Thornhill course.

Ruffing And Etten Team Up To Thrash Boston Sox, 3 to 1

Boston, Aug. 2. (AP)—Red Ruffing, 40-year old pitching veteran, and first baseman Nick Etten teamed up today to give the New York Yankees a 3 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

In winning his second straight since his recent honorable discharge from the Army, Big Red yielded only seven hits and got all the runs he needed when Etten clouted a homer off Clem Hausmann with two on in the first inning.

The Sox also got their run in the first inning on George Starnes' well throw following two singles, but Ruffing kept them away from the plate thereafter.

Methionine Is Used To Treat Poisoning

Chicago—Severe poisoning from breathing the fumes of carbon tetrachloride, widely used but somewhat risky cleaning fluid, has been successfully treated with methionine, one of the amino acids, or building-blocks out of which proteins are formed, Dr. James H. Eddy, Jr., of Shreveport, La., states in the forthcoming issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, published here.

The patients were all Negroes, employed in an ordnance plant near Shreveport where land-mine cases are produced. Cleaning up the hot metal cases, the workers swabbed them with rags saturated in carbon tetrachloride. The fumes sent most of them out of doors to get some fresh air, but then they went back to work and finished their shift. Not until after they had gone home did they become really ill.

New York—Commenting upon

Joe McCarthy's "combat fatigue," the venerable Connie Mack, a lad of some 82 summers, remarked: "That's the trouble with these young fellows—they've a change of diet, and they go off their feed. That's all that ails Joe McCarthy. Joe's been used to a diet of first place in the league standing so long he can't stomach anything else. He's never tasted anything lower than third."

"In my opinion, every major league manager should spend a couple of seasons in the cellar, just to toughen him up, and learn how the other half lives. It would round out his baseball education."

"Joe McCarthy is one of the great baseball managers—one of the greatest that ever came into the game. He's in the prime of life, 58—and it would be a distinct loss to our national game if a man of his grand ability should leave it. Not only for his sake, but for the sake of organized baseball, I hope he's back on the job."

MOSQUITO DOPE IS DOPED

I'm a three coat man when it comes to mosquito dope. I smear other coat at the stream and I hit the trail to the stream. No man reaches the stream without perspiring in the summer and another coat of dope is put on before rising up.

Then when you wade up or down to your choice fishing spot, it is well to apply another coat while you are watching for the rises which tell you where the fish are working. While this may sound like a rather greasy method, it is worth it.

Those who try to tell you that the black flies, the no-see-ums and the mosquitoes were unbearable, are just one coat men. They put on only a prime coat that the skin absorbs almost the moment it is put on. Just as wood absorbs the prime coat like a sponge, so does the skin absorb the first coat of mosquito dope.

That part which is not absorbed rolls off in perspiration. If a man wants comfort he must put on another coat at the stream and a third coat of dope as soon as he starts fishing. Then he can let the flies buzz around him and be comfortable for another hour.

I must confess that women and children shun me when I get home for I stick to the old "grease dope." It has a base of lanolin or castor oil which holds the pine tar, oil of cedar and citronella right there on your skin. Right now there are many preparations on the market which smell sweetly and seem to need no two-day old crop of whiskers to bind it on your face.

Nor do the new preparations make your shirt look as if you had spent a few hours heaving coal in the basement. Some of them are dangerous though, for I have tried them. While nothing can hurt this face of mine with its harness leather covering and deep wrinkles, some mosquito dope will ruin your fishing tackle.

Some dope is made from synthetic preparations which eat the

The adage, "like father like son," seldom stands up in professional athletics, but Jack Kelly, Jr., 18-year-old son of the famous Olympic champion oarsman of 25 years ago, is following closely in his illustrious daddy's footsteps. Kelly senior was the greatest sculler of his time.

Early this month young Kelly rowed in the Peoples Regatta on the Schuylkill river at Philadelphia and won five singles sculling races. It was the first time the boy rowed in anything but schoolboy races. On July 28 at Port Dalhousie, Ont., Jack Jr., rowed home 10 lengths ahead of Sandy Saunders, Canada's best, in the championship singles of the Royal Canadian Henley regatta thus completing a clean sweep of his three races in the three day meet. The proud former world's sculling champion was on hand to cheer his husky son to victory.

Jack Britton, one of the cleverest welterweight champions, did not pass on his marvelous boxing talent to his son Bobby, although Jack himself managed the boy. Bobby lost more fights than he won.

Bob Fitzsimmons was one of the greatest heavyweight boxing champions the prize ring ever knew. Yet his son, Bob Jr., 6-2, 190 pounds, remained a mediocre boxer for 10 years before he decided he'd never get anywhere in the squared circle.

However, a century ago, Tom Hyer emulated his father, Jacob in winning recognition as heavyweight champion of America by defeating George McCloskey, Sept. 9, 1841 at Caldwell's Landing, N. Y., in 10 rounds. The battle lasted two hours, 55 minutes.

Tom defended his claim to the title by beating Yankee Sullivan at Rock Point, Md., in 16 rounds, Jan. 10, 1849.

The elder Hyer, Jacob, was acclaimed the first champion when he beat Tom Beasley in 1816. Both Hyers were 6-2 weighed 185 pounds.

Champions haven't grown much since then.

IVORY WAS VALUELESS

Before the Arabs came, ivory had no intrinsic value in the interior of Africa. Natives killed elephants merely for their flesh. They could not trade the ivory for anything and it became so plentiful that it was used for fences, door posts, roof supports and hundreds of other ordinary purposes.

good coach varnish off a bamboo rod. The water then will get in and ruin the rod. Some dopes will eat right through those six and seven varnish coats of an expensive fly line and you cannot hope to get away with a story to the dealer in your demand for a new $10 line.

While the stuff costs only 25 cents or so, it is best to put a drop of it on your line and another on your rod before you become a steady user of that particular line. The new dopes because they do not grease the leader and prevent it from sinking.

I overcome this fault of grease dopes by carrying a small piece of lava soap. When the leader does not sink I merely wet the soap and draw the leader through it a few times. This sinks the leader without using glycerine or grabbing a handful of silt and washing it.

Bat Crown Is Eluding 3rd Basemen, Catchers

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York (P)—The alert Earl Hilligan, the American League's advertising manager, points out that Tony Cuccinello of the White Sox might be the first third baseman in the league's history to win the batting championship.

"Cooch" might do it, at that, although the race promises to be closer than your next breath right down to the wire, with the winner's average nothing to make Ty Cobb envious.

If the top average for the league is .335 or thereabouts it will not be surprising, and there are fellows who played in the majors 10 to 15 years and retired with lifetime marks better than that.

The honor role of A. L. batting champions includes 29 outfielders, seven first basemen, five second basemen and three shortstops. Catchers, like third basemen, are not represented.

Not a stickman among the third basemen. It just so happened that some of them were around when it took a mark of about .400 or better to take the title, and infielders, Rogers Hornsby and Larry Lajoie excepted, just don't hit .400.

With fellows such as Lajoie, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Harry Heilmann and George Sisler around a player had to be well over the .350 mark to even be close to the champion, although there have been scattered years when the averages dropped so alarmingly it seemed that the pitchers must have been tossing up leather-coated rocks.

Ebb tide for the batters was in 1905, when Elmer Flick of Cleveland captured the title with a meager .306. That followed an average of .381 Lajoie compiled the year before.

With Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio, who between them cornered the crown for three years, in the service the last two years the winning mark dropped to figures comparable to the prospective winning average this year, Lou Boudreau of the Indians was the winner last year with .327, and Luke Appling, winner in 1943, was only a point better.

The golden opportunity for the third sacker, of course, was the year Flick hit .306, but the best any third baseman could do that year was the .276 registered by Jimmy Collins.

One of the better-hitting third basemen was Frank "Home Run" Baker of Connie Mack's famed $100,000 infield, but when he hit .334 in 1911 the average was good only for seventh place. The next year he hit .347, but only moved up one place. He was fifth in 1913 with .336, but that was the closest he could come to the top.

When it is considered the average winning percentage for the 44 years of American League play is .375, it readily is apparent why in most seasons marks of .340 or .350 were good only for honorable mention.

Cuccinello may be just the lucky guy to come along, at the age of 37, when a mark 40 points below the over-all average hits binned.

TIMELY HOMERS BEAT BROWNIES

Pair Of Round-Trippers By Eddie Mayo Set Up 4 Runs For Bengals

BY FRANK KENESSON

Detroit, Aug. 2. (P)—A pair of timely homers by Eddie Mayo, his second and third in two days, drove in four runs today as the Detroit Tigers stretched their winning streak to six games—longest this year—by beating the St. Louis Browns 6 to 0.

Al Benton, big righthander returned to the Tigers this season from the Navy, scattered seven hits in making his 10th victory his fifth shutout.

For seven innings the game was a tight pitchers' battle between Benton and Jack Kramer, with Mayo's third inning home run providing the Tigers with a 1-0 margin.

The Tigers had only four hits off Kramer until they exploded for five runs in the eighth, three of them on Mayo's ninth circuit swing of the season and another on Hank Greenberg's lofty double that dropped against the left field wall.

Benton, reducing his earned run average to .089, fanned five Brownies—three of them in one inning—and pitched his way out of a tight spot in the sixth when St. Louis put men on second and third with only one out. The Browns had two men as far as third and advanced only three others to second.

The Tigers had eight hits off Kramer and left-handed Sam Zoldak, handing Kramer his 10th defeat.

A crowd of 13,782 fans watched the Tigers waste a scoring chance in the second inning when they filled the bases with two out, but Detroit made the most of every opportunity thereafter, leaving only four runners stranded on the bases.

Rudy York's single, Bob Maier's double and an intentional pass on Bob Swift put three Tigers on board in the second but Benton bounced out to kill the rally.

Hank Near Homer Benton pitched his way out of holes in the third and sixth and was on top 1-0 when he started the big ninth inning by working Kramer for a pass. Skeeter Webb singled to center to put two men on for Mayo's second homer—a drive that bounced off the facing in front of the upper deck in right field.

Roy Cullenbine walked and Greenberg hit a high one into the yard that failed to clear the left field screen by hardly a foot. Greenberg's swat for two bases, scoring Cullenbine, and on the throw-in took third, scoring a moment later on York's single to center.

The five-run climax assured Detroit's second straight series sweep against western rivals and maintained its five-game lead as the Tigers departed for Chicago to open a five-game series.

Frank (Stubby) Overmire and Earl Caldwell were the pitching nominees for the Chicago opener tomorrow night.

Munising News

Local Team Enters Menominee Tourney

Menising—The City Merchants will represent this city at the softball tournament at Menominee on Sunday. They are due to meet the Lloyds of Menominee at 1 p. m. Munising is entered in Class A, all the games in that group being played Sunday. Class B games will be played Saturday.

Softball has suffered a considerable decline of interest in the last two or three years, mainly because so many of the boys who played had left Munising to serve in the armed forces. Interest has revived somewhat this summer. A number of the town's well-known players have resumed play. They have practiced enthusiastically. A number of games have been played with fair success.

It is announced that the squad which goes to Menominee will include the following local players: Cook, Dale, LaCombe, LeBrasseur, Depew, Dorenbecker, Feldhausen, Davis, Carr, Mercier, Lasak, Lord, Hamilla and Monger.

They will leave Sunday at 7:30 a. m.

System For Refuse Pickup To Be Tried Out In Munising

Munising—The city commission in regular session Wednesday evening at the city hall took up the problem of gathering refuse other than garbage in the business district. As requested earlier there was a good turnout of merchants. The merchants were all anxious to contribute as necessary if a satisfactory plan could be worked out.

After discussion by the commissioners and merchants it was decided to make a number of trial trips for this type of refuse alone and thus to determine a working base rate for the fee each merchant will be assessed. The collections of garbage will continue as usual. The special collections will not be made so often.

A delegation from the City Merchants, softball team which will be Munising's lone representative in the Upper Peninsula tournament to be held in Menominee on Saturday and Sunday, appeared before the commission and asked for a contribution from the city to help defray expenses of the trip to Menominee. The commission voted to contribute $10.

271 Cars Ticketed Because They Had No Use Tax Stamp

Marquette. — More than 250 Marquette owners of automobiles found out that Uncle Sam meant what he said when he warned them, two or three times, they would be penalized if they failed to buy the $5 federal use stamp tax. And it cost most of them an extra $5 to find it out.

A few days ago John Fugere, in charge of the U. P. office of the warned auto owners that on August 1 his agents would begin a city-by-city check of cars and put red tickets on all those found without 1945 tax stamps on the windshields.

Wednesday was August 1 and Fugere's agents did exactly what he said they would do. They began their enforcement drive in the city of Marquette and up to 5 p. m. they had distributed 271 red tickets. The red tickets are invitations—orders, as a matter of fact—to call in person at the internal revenue office in the Kaufman building and square up with Uncle Sam.

URGE SPRAYING TO END BLIGHT

Regular Use Of Bordeaux Mixture Protection For Potatoes

The discovery of late blight in potato fields in the St. Nicholas area of Delta county brought a warning from E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, that it is likely to spread and that it should be combated with proper spraying.

The blight, an air-borne disease occurs late in the season following warm moist days with cool nights. The disease causes water-soaked spots to appear on the leaves; later the infective material is washed down into the hill, causing the tubers to rot. Slightly affected potato tubers may later break down and rot in storage.

Bordeaux mixture is still the standard spray for potatoes. Fixed copper compounds may be used successfully. The manufacturer's direction should be followed. Plants should be sprayed or dusted regularly, keeping the new growth covered. Time to start spraying is when the plants appear above ground, repeating every 10 days or two weeks. Sprays should be used at the rate of 100 gallons per acre. Three pounds of calcium arsenate added to each hundred pounds will control leaf eating insects.

The formula for standard bordeaux mixture follows:
8 pounds bluestone (copper sulphate) 12 pounds hydrated spraying lime, 100 gallons water.

For a small quantity:
4 ounces powdered copper sulphate, 6 ounces lime, 3 gallons water.

Michael J. Miller, Chippewa County Farmer, Is Killed

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Michael J. Miller, well-known Chippewa county farmer, died instantly of a fractured skull when he fell from a hay mow on his farm on the Long side road at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Miller's son, Bernard, was spending a two-week vacation helping his father with the haying. He went to get another load of hay, leaving his father in the mow, spreading the hay. When he returned he found his father dead on the barn floor.

Michael "Mike" Miller was a familiar figure at local fairs, where his teams won many pulling contests.

He was born at Sarnia, Ont., February 23, 1874 and was a widower. Mrs. Miller died nine years ago.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Reuben (Mildred) Marcoe of Hermansville, and three sons: John J. and Carl L. Miller, both with the armed forces overseas, and Bernard M. at home. Another daughter Mrs. Mina Wallsteadt, died in June 1944.

Potato Barrage Used on Enemy

Augusta, Me. (AP)—The Destroyer O'Bannon has a plaque presented by Maine's potato growers, because her crew served spuds in a new style. The destroyer crippled a Japanese submarine off the Solomon Islands and as it closed in to sink it with depth charges, her crew fired a potato barrage at enemy seamen scrambling onto her deck.

NOT ALL ALIKE

Not all deer shed their antlers annually, as do American species. The axis deer of India may keep a set for several years, and the Pere David's deer of China grows two sets annually.
